

MIGRATION, POST-CONFLICT AND HUMANITARIAN ACTION

Forced migrations, as well as waves of refugees and of internally displaced people continue to represent a serious threat to peace and human dignity, to which multi-lateral institutions, national authorities and civil society organisations try to face. These phenomena, that frequently occur or result in cases of high institutional fragility, have been addressed by our action, usually in countries suffering of post-conflict situations. Angola, Mozambique and Colombia are some of the countries where we work.
